Creating and shaping texts	Text structure and composition	Sentence construction and punctuation
I am developing my own personal style in my writing.	I can use a wide range of connectives.	I use punctuation accurately to express very fine shades of meaning.
I can use some devices such as simile, metaphor, alliteration, personification for a specific purpose.	I can group subjects appropriately before or after a main verb (the books, the pens and the pencils were all ready on the table)	I can use pronouns to avoid repetition when referring back or forward (that, these, those, it).
I can use relationships between sections or paragraphs to give structure to the whole text.		I am continuing to write fluently in clear, joined handwriting.
I can select from a wide range of known imaginative and ambitious vocabulary, and use precisely.
I can use different techniques to conclude work appropriately (eg opinion, summary, justification, comment)
I can use informal and formal styles with confidence (conversational, colloquial/ 'slang', dialectic, standard English)
